Agency and Institutions in Sport

Edited by Matthew Dowling Anglia Ruskin University, UK, Jonathan Robertson, Marvin Washington University of Alberta, Canada, Becca Leopkey, Dana Ellis
This book offers a unique insight into the role of individuals and organisations in shaping institutional arrangements within the context of sport. Institutional approaches can be used to examine the complex relationships between sport organisations and their broader environment and can help explain some of the most fundamental questions about the nature of how sport is organised. The chapters in this book bridge the theoretical divide between mainstream sport management and sport management to help facilitate a joint venture for future research. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of European Sport Management Quarterly.

This book is fascinating reading for anybody with an interest in leisure studies, women’s studies, sociology, cultural studies or Middle East studies.
Therapeutic and Home Exercises

Makofsky’s Spinal Manual Therapy

An Introduction to Soft Tissue Mobilization, Spinal Manipulation, Therapeutic and Home Exercises

Edited by Olivier Girard, Johannes Burtscher, Martin Burscher, Grégoire Millet

Therapeutic Use of Hypoxia: Principles, Mechanisms and Applications delivers an understanding of systemic and molecular mechanisms involved in hypoxia adaptations and examines the most promising forms of hypoxia conditioning with a view to create performance-enhancing strategies for athletes as well as offering an examination on clinical applications for numerous pathologies.

Mark Gugliotti, Howard W. Makofsky

Makofsky’s Spinal Manual Therapy: An Introduction to Soft Tissue Mobilization, Spinal Manipulation, Therapeutic and Home Exercises, Third Edition, is an easy-to-follow manual of clinical techniques for the spine, pelvis, and temporomandibular joint. The text provides “tools” rather than “recipes” and immerses the reader in the process of “thinking as a manual therapist,” rather than functioning as a technician. This fully revised edition continues to mirror courses on the introduction to spinal manual therapy and will be key reading for physical therapy curriculum, as well as appreciated by clinicians when entering clinical practice.

Sport Cyberpsychology

Olivia A. Hurley

The new edition is the only textbook in this field that provides a detailed overview of theories, concepts and research findings specifically related to the discipline of sport cyberpsychology. It covers topics that include performance-enhancing technologies, social media use by athletes and sport personnel (e.g., sport officials) and the role of technology in sport psychology consulting. Problematic behaviours athletes may encounter or engage in within the online world, such as their experiences with cyberbullying and online gambling respectively, are discussed.

Sport Events and Community Development

Kyriaki Kaplanidou University of Florida, USA, Luke R. Potwarka University of Waterloo, Canada

This book examines the relationships between sport event hosting and community development goals. With sport events proliferating around the world, from major events to local events, the book explains how community goals can be embedded into sports event planning, and how events at all levels can be most effectively leveraged to achieve positive outcomes and legacies for local communities.

Sport Migrants, Precarity and Identity

José Hildo de Oliveira Filho Charles University in Prague, Czech Republic

This book takes a close look at the experiences of migrant athletes, their precarious careers, and at what this can tell us about wider themes of globalisation, identity, race, gender, and the body. Presenting a more nuanced, ground-level perspective on sports migration and the sociological dialogue between identity, culture and the body, this book is fascinating reading for anybody with an interest in the socio-cultural study of sport, migration, globalisation or global inequalities.

Critical Inclusive Tourism
Empowering Marginalized Groups

Edited by Catheryn Khoo, Prachi Thakur, Paolo Mura, Jess Sanggeyong Je, Mona Yang

This groundbreaking book addresses the longstanding lack of consensus surrounding the approach to marginalization in tourism. The chapters identify critical components and question the legitimacy of who qualifies as marginalized. Crucially, the book formulates effective solutions to address marginalization within the tourism context. The chapters unravel the multifaceted dimensions of marginalization, providing a nuanced and informed perspective that contributes significantly to the ongoing discourse on inclusivity and equity within tourism knowledge. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Tourism Recreation Research.
